Are you an experienced Midwife in search of a dynamic opportunity within a rewarding healthcare organisation? This could be the role for you!

Northpark Private Hospital are seeking Registered Midwives to join our team of professionals in providing excellent patient care.

As a Registered Midwife your responsibilities will include:

- Provide high standards of evidence-based midwifery care to women of varying ages and cultural groups
- Plan, assess, implement and evaluate midwifery care in collaboration with women, their families and the multidisciplinary team so as to achieve identified goals and health outcomes
- Supervise, direct, guide junior nurses and undergraduate midwives in provision of midwifery care
- Work collaboratively with the wider healthcare team to support patient care needs

About us

Come and join our expert team of surgeons, specialist doctors, dedicated nurses and allied health professionals at Northpark Private Hospital.

The Early Parenting Unit offers both outpatient day programs as well as a residential inpatient stay for families who require support following the arrival of a new baby and throughout their first year.

Our unit is staffed by a highly qualified team of: Obstetricians; Paediatricians; Psychiatrists; Midwives; Nurses; physiotherapists, all who have extensive experience supporting families and their infants.

Northpark Private Hospital has grown to become one of the largest private hospitals in Melbourne's north, offering a wide range of surgical, medical, maternity, mental health and rehabilitation care for its patients. We offer state of the art equipment in a world class facility, diverse and friendly teams, as well as flexible shifts so you can achieve work/life balance.

Joining our team means you'll be supported by great team leaders, be part of a strong, innovative team who always strive for better, and have the opportunity to flourish and grow.

Selection Criteria:

- Current Registration with AHPRA
- Bachelor of Midwifery
- Minimum 2 years post grad qualification in midwifery or relevant
- Working with Children check (if relevant)
- Compliance with ACQSHC National standards
- Highly developed clinical skills in maternity services: antenatal/birth suite/postnatal care
- Exceptional interpersonal and communication skills
- Adaptable and flexible approach to work practice

If you are successful, you will receive a salary as per Healthscope - Victoria - Nurses and Midwives Agreement, 2020 -2025 for years of nursing experience, ranging between $34.55/hr - $46.22/hr.
